

HELD DOWN BY THE SAFE.
ONLY ONE HOUSE LEFT IN A DAKOTA TOWN.
SWEEPING DESTRUCTION BY STORM—SNOW AND FROST.

SHERBROOKE, Dak., June 22.—Every building in the town was blown over by the storm on Saturday except the county building, which was held down by the safe. No one was hurt.

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., June 22.—A tornado visited the northeastern part this county on Saturday night. At Sibley, on the river, a number of houses were destroyed.

among them being the store of C. S. McMillen, scarcely a vestige of which remains. Throughout the country the forests suffered from loss of large trees, and grain is more or less damaged. Much of the latter was almost ready for the sickle. The new business house of T. W. Herson, in this city, was blown out of shape. The wind blew a gale, and a driving rain was general throughout the country.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., June 22.—A tornado, accompanied by rain, hail and electricity, passed over this city late on Saturday night, and it is now learned that although in the city the only damage was to trees, fences and gardens, in the country it was more severe. On the stock farm belonging to Captain U. S. Tough, four miles south, the large barn was blown to atoms, and nine horses buried in the ruins. Three were killed outright, and the others injured. About 100 head of cattle, and and all the others severely injured. The second story was blown from the home of George Richardson. Although the family were in the house, no one was injured. The house of John Huckins, about twelve miles from the city, was blown to pieces. The family, consisting of five persons, were scattered about the yard in all directions by the gale, but none were killed. All, however, were injured more or less. The timbers of the house were blown more than a mile.

KANSAS CITY, June 22.—The storm on Saturday night did little damage in Kansas city, the most serious being the blowing down of a three-story brick building at Eighteenth and Enrank sts., valued at $4,000. Reports are coming in of serious damage to growing crops as well as the destruction of fences and houses, and in some cases of dwellings. Dispatches from St. Joseph, Warrensburg, Independence, Cameron, Chillicothe, Beaver, Missouri City, Marshall, Slater, and Glasgow, all Missouri towns, tell the same story. At Glasgow, J. C. Wilson, of Peoria, a travelling man, lost his life, and the business part of the town was almost destroyed.

STAUNTON, Va., June 22—A severe wind and hail storm passed over the lower portion of Augusta County yesterday, felling buildings, trees and the growing corn, and otherwise causing heavy damage.

NEW-ORLEANS, June 22.—A dispatch to The Times-Democrat from Minden says: A severe storm passed over this region yesterday, doing great damage to corn crops, fences and trees. The storm lasted twenty minutes, leaving a track about a mile wide.

DETROIT, June 22.—Dispatches from the Western part of the lower peninsula of Michigan report heavy frosts last night, with considerable damage to corn and other CLEVELAND, June 22 (Special).—Three yachts anchored inside the breakwater were driven on the rocks and destroyed to-day. The schooner J. H. Hill anchored last evening between the piers at Fairport. The storm of last night drove her against the east pier and stove a hole in her. She tilted and sank a total wreck.

RAVENA, Ohio, June 22 (Special).—The whirlwind that struck the village last night rendered Main and Chestnut sts. impassable on account of the immense trees that were uprooted and blown across them. The Court House Park is ruined. It will take twenty-five years to restore the trees and ornaments to their original beauty. The fine houses of A. A. Graham and William Helcomb were uprooted completely. The business part of the town is in a sad plight. Store fronts are demolished. Marvin's Block is unroofed. J. S. Smith's family, occupying rooms above his store, were turned out unceremoniously and not a single dry article of clothing was left them. Carpets and furniture were ruined. The roof of the Second National Bank building and the Masonic Hall were demolished. Reed's Hall, occupied by

The Salvation Army, is a wreck. The beautiful Little Opera House is greatly damaged, the dome having been carried to the adjoining building. Meritts & Riddle's repository was unroofed and the contents ruined. The house of N. D. Clark is hardly discernable, being surrounded and covered with tin roofing and timbers blown from neighboring buildings. The heavy slate roof was lifted, and in falling it did not strike plumb, and its heavy cornice now hangs over the side, propped tempo-parily by scantling. The Union School building in Chestnut-st. is unroofed, and the school hall in the mazard is much damaged. The house of John Chelt was moved bodily nearly twenty-five feet. Great trees uprooted and lying across the streets in every direction render travelling by vehicles almost impossible. The damage is estimated at $30,000.

of Springfield, and R. M. Withersap, of Coveeury, great damage was done. While a freight train on the Valley Railroad was passing a point north of the city thirty feet of track gave way, carrying down seven cars. A temporary bridge was built over the washout. In this city eighty feet of the main sewer carved in carrying a man, a horse and a wagon away.

DEMOCRATIC QUARRELS IN NEW-JERSEY.

TRENTON, June 22.—The appointment of Matthew H. Vanderveer as Collector of Internal Revenue for the Third District of this State has embittered the contest waged between Senator McClellan and the old State House wing of the Democracy. It is understood that the appointment was secured by one of the old tricks for which the State House ring is noted. The President is not familiar with the wiles of Jersey Democracy.

The State House faction stole quietly back to Wash-legion, represented that Vanderveer's nomination would satisfy all parties and heal all differences and so plastered over affairs that the President agreed to appoint Matthew as Collector of the Revenue for the State House crowd. The next morning the papers are on Senator McPherson's door, telling that he did not represent more than one-third of the State. But to-night it has dawned upon the State House ring, that an appointment is one thing and a commission another. It was learned that Senator McPherson had gone to Washington and was preparing to upset the little game played by his oppo-

RELEASED BY GOVERNOR COLESBY.
CHICAGO, June 22 (Special).—Louis Bachus, who was sent to the penitentiary eleven weeks ago for killing his daughter's betrayer, has been released from prison. He returned home to-day. On January 26 he met Theodore Lay, the man who led his daughter astray, and shot him dead.

and asked him to marry her. Lay refused, and even taunted him with his daughter's stains. Bachus shot and killed him. He was sentenced to Joliet prison for four years. His attorney appealed to the Governor, Judge Gary, before whom Bachus was tried, wrote to the Governor, stating that while he could not make any recommendation in the case, he would be glad to see Bachus a free man. Senator Logan interested himself in the case, and, of his own half, helped send Bachus to New Orleans.

at the time of the election trouble in 1876. He was a Republican and an election officer whose duty it was to return the ballot-box of his precinct to headquarters. He refused an offer of $35,000 for allowing the box to be tampered with. The facts came out in the returning board investigation. Governor Wadsworth, of Louisiana, General Baile, Colonel of the 10th of New Orleans, and General H. H. Hildreth, of New York, who had known Baile in the south, appealed to Governor Oglesby in his behalf, and 3,000 people of Chicago signed a petition for his release. The

NAVAL CADETS FLIRTING WITH PRETTY GIRLS.
ANNAPOLIS, June 22.—A steamer from Baltimore brought an excursion party down to this place on Thursday and the cadets at the Naval Academy are accused of kissing their hands and in various ways flirting with the pretty girls on the steamer. The cadets con-

SUSPENSION OF A SUNDAY NEWSPAPER.
PHILADELPHIA, June 22 (Special).—No one was surprised when The Sunday Argus, a straight-out Democratic paper and which hoped to turn itself into a daily in the fall, suspended publication after a brief ca-

POISONED WITH CANNED MEAT.
PHILADELPHIA, June 22 (Special).—Mrs. Henry Bonham and four sons, of Falls of Schuylkill, were taken suddenly and seriously ill early this morning. It is supposed from canned meat which they had eaten for breakfast.
